

Technical mentoring involves supporting someone to learn new skills.

Pastoral mentoring involves developing the whole person, which may include elements of technical mentoring.

Many younger people tell us they want to feel supported as a whole person to feel more engaged.

Increasing the effectiveness of interventions

Course delivery

We can deliver or train your team to deliver:

- 3-day classroom course
- Fast Track blended learning (eLearning and 1-day classroom)
- eLearning

These are then followed by an online assessment and an optional six-month portfolio.

Total time is approx. 125-150 hours.

Assessment

Learners pass an online assessment to become certified. Includes accreditation on the public Register of Mentors for six months.

Following this, there is an ongoing fee for continued registration.

Learners also have the option to do a 5-unit reflective assignment to convert their course into a Level 3 Youth Mentor qualification (currently undergoing registration).

Introducing the Practitioner Mentor for Youth, a certified course designed for workers, mentors and volunteers to help maximize the impact of your work..

Mentoring young people in the community brings its own problems. Apart from the often ad-hoc nature of sessions, there are the risks involved with mentors facing a wide range of complex needs. This can include drug or alcohol problems, mental health difficulties, offending, home or academic issues to name but a few.

Knowledge, skills, impact

Multi-award-winning training providers, The Mentoring School, have developed a course to help you to actively support and develop the people you are working with.

The specialist course covers up to date good practice skills in working with individuals or groups, covering the practical skills required to be able to manage safe, bounded mentoring conversations with young people in the community.
